28R18 Hyperextension Orthosis

An Effective Solution through Superior Design

Our Hyperextension Orthosis works hard to help your patients get relief from pain caused by flexion of the spine due to conditions such as compression fractures. By using a sliding feature for fitting, the 28R18 eliminates the need for excessive screws but achieves customized fit. The thumb loop closure system enables the patient to secure the orthosis easily without painful twisting or pulling. And, the pelvic support accommodates a seated position without sacrificing constant 3-point pressure.

Easy to fit, easy to wear—the 28R18 Hyperextension Orthosis from Otto Bock delivers superior stability and support for your patient.
